What is a Morning Offering?

The Morning Offering is a prayer in which we consecrate the day to God and ask for His help to live it as a day of the Lord.

It's normally best prayed once one is alert enough to pray. For some, that can be as soon as they arise. For others, it means once they've had a cup of coffee or after they've been awakened in the shower. For those who set aside a period of time to pray each morning before the day gets going, it can be delayed until that time of prayer begins.

The key is to pray it early, before one has gotten distracted by news, emails, social media or chores.

The Morning Offering helps us start the day focused on the purpose of time and the meaning of our life. St. Paul wrote to the first Christians, "I urge you therefore, brothers, by the mercies of God, to offer your bodies as a living sacrifice, holy and pleasing to God, your Spiritual worship" (Rom 12:1-2). Those who make the Morning Offering begin the day by offering their body, mind, heart, soul and strength to God.

The Morning Offering can be long or short. It can be done with one's own words or with those written by someone else.

One of the shortest morning offerings is simply to say "Serviam!," which means "May I serve!" This commitment to serve God and others during the day is in direct opposition to the devil's attempts to get us to make his ego-centric, "Non serviam!," his refusal to obey God, our motto and lifestyle.

The 19th century French Apostleship of Prayer popularized a longer Morning Offering that has found its way into many prayer books:

"O Jesus, through the Immaculate Heart of Mary, I offer You my prayers, works, joys, and sufferings of this day in union with the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass throughout the world. I offer them for all the intentions of Your Sacred Heart: the Salvation of souls, reparation for sin, and the reunion of all Christians. I offer them for the intentions of our bishops and of all Apostles of prayer, and in particular for those recommended by our Holy Father this month."

You could kneel down at the side of the bed facing a crucifix and, to ensure you're praying sincerely rather than routinely, say it in your own words.

Pope St John Paul II once said that praying the Morning Offering is "of fundamental importance in the life of each and every one of the faithful. It is a daily reminder to make our entire day, our whole life 'a living sacrifice, holy and acceptable to God.'"

In his Morning Offering, he would consecrate the day to God through Mary, renewing the consecratory prayer of St Louis de Montfort from which his papal motto, Totus Tuus, was taken. He would also pray in a special way for all those whom he would meet during the day, that he might receive each of them as a gift and become a vicarious sign for them of Christ's presence in return.

It doesn't have to be long, just regular and sincere. It will change your day, it might even change your life.

A Morning Offering

O Jesus,
through the Immaculate Heart of Mary,
I offer You my prayers, works,
joys and sufferings
of this day for all the intentions
of Your Sacred Heart,
in union with
the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass
throughout the world,
in reparation for my sins,
for the intentions of all my relatives
and friends,
and in particular
for the intentions of the Holy Father.
Amen.

St Simon Stock was born in 1164 in England (possibly Aylesford). According to legend, from a young age, Simon lived as a hermit in the hollow of a tree (or stock) and soon he became known as Simon (of the) Stock. Tradition has it that he received The Brown Scapular from Our Lady of Mt Carmel in an apparition on 16th July 1251. He is believed to have lived at Aylesford, a place that, in 1247, hosted the first General Chapter of the Carmelite Order held outside the Holy Land. The monastery of Carmelite Friars now is situated on that site. St Simon was probably the fifth or sixth Prior General of the Carmelites (historical evidence suggests perhaps from about 1256-1266). During his service, the order spread widely in Southern and Western Europe, especially in England. St Simon Stock died 16th May 1265 in Bordeaux, where his bones are still preserved in the Cathedral. A tibia was brought to England in the 1860s for the Carmelite church in Kensington, but some of his relics are kept at Aylesford Friary. His feast is Monday.
